Hon. Chas. Sumner Young Visits Richmond Friends and Exposition

CHAS. SUMNER YOUNG of Los Angeles, one of the prominent citizens of the Southern metropolis, a newspaperman, also of national fame as an educator, and later making a big strike in the Kern county oil fields, was a guest of The Richmond Terminal newspaper Monday.

Mr. Young is acknowledged to be the best informed person on the Mexican situation in the United States. He was for many years the personal friend of Presidents Diaz and Madero, and other prominent men of Mexico.

Mr. Young has prepared a paper on Mexico, which will soon appear in the leading newspapers and magazines which, it is said, will cause a sensation.

In early days Mr. Young published the Reno (Nev.) Gazette, and his wide experience in public life and his entertaining proclivities, have made for him a world of friends.

At his attractive country place near Redondo he entertains on a large scale, among his guests being many prominent persons in literature, art, science and national affairs. Like all retired newspapermen, Mr. Young has an irrepressible inclination to get back into the "harness" again.

He was a recent candidate for the nomination for U. S. Senator, and ex-Governor Gage says "came near securing the honors."

Young has many friends in the bay cities, including Richmond, a number of whom were former school pupils of his in Nevada and Ohio.

The Silent Club, in which the Schaeffer boys and Arthur Byrd are prominent gave away some very unique prizes at their masquerade. It was a purely poultry affair, with all due respect to the ladies, of course, as the prizes consisted of ducks and pigeons.

The third game of the Forester's whist series was well attended, last Tuesday. Mrs. Anna Dahlen of Rust, Mrs. L. C. Green and Mrs. Jos. Thelan of Albany won prizes, as did Frank Flint, Eddie Ayer and Andrew Holmes. Dancing concluded the fun.

U. S. SOLDIERS ARE SHOT BY MEXICANS

In Retaliation 40 of Villas Men Are Killed; Mexican Insults Start Trouble

Nogales, Ariz.—Carrying out threats that they would fight Americans before they left the border, snipers posted in Nogales, Sonora, after Francisco Villa evacuated the town, opened fire November 26 on soldiers of the Twelfth United States Infantry posted at the border. The Americans, who had endured taunts of cowardice for a week, returned the fire. More than forty Mexicans were killed.

The Americans had three wounded, one of whom, Stephen Little, died. Another, Herbert Cates, was operated on and has an even chance for recovery. The American casualties were suffered in a bunch with Carranza's cavalry, who were taken for Villa troops, as they rushed over a hill to enter the town. In the exchange of shots that followed, three Carranza soldiers also were shot. One of them, a courier sent to inform Colonel W. H. Sage, the American officer on the line, that the Carranza forces had captured the Mexican town just across the border, was shot in the wrist, as his horse, ridden with bullets, fell under him.

Lieutenant Gills, officer of the day, reported to Colonel Sage that a captain of the Carranza forces which occupied Nogales, Sonora, and seven men, three of them Carranza soldiers, were executed at sundown. The soldiers were caught robbing a woman, while loot was found in the possession of the others.

All three of the wounded Americans belonged to Company L of the Twelfth Infantry, who engaged the Carranza cavalry after fellow members of the Twelfth Infantry had driven the Villa snipers, estimated at about 200 men, from the Mexican town where an orgy of looting, attended by the consumption of large quantities of liquor, preceded the fighting.

TOMBSTONES USED TO LOCATE NEW CLAIMS

Sodaville, Nev., Find of Rich Vein of Tungsten Results in Vandalism

Reno.—Tombstones are being used for location monuments in the new mining district near Sodaville, where a fabulously rich ledge of tungsten ore was discovered ten days ago, according to reports brought to Reno by men who answered the call of the desert and rushed to get some of the claims.

One miner located the village cemetery, and as there were no rocks near, he used some of the best looking tombstones to mark the boundaries of his claim.

Others soon followed suit, and now the relatives of the departed, interred there years ago, would have a hard time recognizing one grave from another.

WINGFIELD MAY BUY NEVADA SUGAR PLANT

Property at Fallon Is to Be Disposed of Soon by the Bondholders

Fallon, Nev.—It is reported that George Wingfield and associates will purchase the plant of the Nevada Sugar Company in this city, which will be sold December 29th under a decree issued by Judge Farrington in favor of the bondholders. Wingfield has been in San Francisco in consultation with his associates, and it is understood he will secure the cooperation of practical sugar men of the Pacific Coast to operate the plant.

FRANCE PUTS BAN ON MAIL REGARDING SOLDIERS' FATE

Paris.—The latest order issued by Minister of War Gallieni, prohibiting families of soldiers writing direct to the officers of regiments at the front for news regarding the soldiers' fate, has resulted in a letter of protest from Crusee Concorat, a member of the Chamber of Deputies.

Napa.—William Stoeck, crazed with despondency over ill health and practically penniless, shot and killed his four-year-old son and then shot himself November 28 at the Palace Hotel in this city.

KITCHENER PRAYS ITALY FOR HELP

Rushes to Rome to Enlist Aid in Halting Dash of Kaiser in Balkan States

Zurich, Switzerland.—Dispatches from Bucharest, Rumania, to Budapest papers state that the Rumanian council of ministers has decided since the Unionist federation has threatened to make a demonstration and interrupt the speech from the throne, to open Parliament simply with a royal message, which Premier Bratianu will read.

The message will declare, it is said, that the foreign political situation makes it the duty of Rumania to maintain neutrality to such limits as the vital interests of the country will permit.

Rome.—Earl Kitchener reached Rome November 26.

Without an instant's delay he started on the next great step in his military mission in the Near East—the enlistment of Italy's active aid in the Balkans.

Only his common men at Avlona, but they lie passive in that Albanian port.

Italy also has large forces at Rhodes, but they are on waiting orders in that Aegean island.

The British Secretary of War said there were men thrown at once against the Bulgarians and their Russian allies.

With these Italians in the field, the Russian promised 400,000 men rushed across the Bulgarian frontier and an army swung up from Gallipoli to Saloniki. Lord Kitchener feels that he will be able to balk the German march to Constantinople.

He believes he can then reach Suda and turn the tide of war in the Balkans. No sooner had Lord Kitchener arrived from Greece at Naples than he hurried to Rome and called on Premier Salandra. To the latter for an hour he made his arguments with customary force.

From the Premier's Kitchener was driven to a conference with Baron Sonnino, Secretary of Foreign Affairs. He then motored to the British Embassy, where he took luncheon. The Italian Ministers of War and Colonies were the other guests.

Luncheon over, Lord Kitchener proceeded to the Italian military headquarters and conferred with General Aldemoro, under chief of the general staff.

During the day he visited Queen Elena and the Dowager Queen Margherita. He dined with Premier Salandra and the ministers of War and Marine.

LONDON.—Bulgarian ambitions in Albania, it is believed, have led the Ruman government to send troops to Avlona, Albania.

The distance from Avlona, in an air line to the Serbian frontier, is about 100 miles. The intervening country is mountainous, the terrain heavy because of winter rains and the roads difficult of transportation for impedimenta and heavy guns of a large army. Military experts therefore, assuming that the Italians plan to go overland to the Monastir battlefield, estimate it will take weeks for a reinforcing column to reach the allied armies.

50 MILLION BRITISH CREDIT SECURED FROM AMERICA

New York.—The committee of bankers which recently was organized to perfect an additional British commercial credit, have announced that a six months loan for $50,000,000, bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest and secured by 11,000,000 pounds sterling British government bonds, had been arranged.

The bonds are to be deposited in the Bank of England by the borrowers, who represent eight of London's most prominent institutions.

Warren Honored

Paris.—On the eve of his departure for New York November 27, Whitney Warren, noted New York architect, was received by President Poincare, Premier Briand, Minister of War Gallieni and General Joffre, all of whom thanked him for his earnest support of the cause of the allies.

Less than a month, a Monterey carpenter, died in the Prosidio of Monterey Hospital November 28 as the result of a gunshot wound in his abdomen. Bushnell was hunting in the vicinity of Sea Lake, two miles east of here, and stumbled over a railroad track, his shot gun being accidentally discharged. He leaves a widow and six small children. He was 36 years of age.

BOMB PLOT TAKES IN SAN FRANCISCO

Local Man Arrested; Says He Was an Employee of the German Consul

San Francisco.—Charles C. Crowley, a detective of this city, was arrested November 26 on the charge of conspiring to destroy munitions plants in the United States and dynamite vessels carrying munitions of war to the allies. Two of Crowley's alleged "operatives" are under arrest elsewhere.

Crowley made a statement that he had been employed for some time by the German consul of this port for innocent purposes.

United States Attorney John W. Preston, who ordered the arrest, declared Crowley was the "director general" in practically all the bomb outrages that have been perpetrated on shore and off shore for the last six months.

Explosions, fires and destruction of powder plants have been at the rate of about four a day for the last ten weeks.

Louis J. Smith, one of the alleged main agents for Crowley, is under arrest in a Middle Western city, according to Preston.

Ralph Falconer, in custody at Tacoma, confessed that he took part in a number of crimes of violence laid to Crowley's men.

Preston applied the "third degree" to Crowley for forty-eight hours previous to his actual arrest. Crowley was kept under surveillance at night in his apartments, and in the daytime in the "private bastille" of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice in the postoffice building.

Herman D. Lemke, who told United States Attorney Preston he was attorney for the German Consul, called at the official's office, requesting permission for an interview with Crowley. Preston refused permission.

ROUNDWORM CURE IS RECENTLY DISCOVERED

University Professor Finds a Method of Stopping Ravages of Poultry Pest

Berkeley.—A cure for "roundworm," one of the most serious of poultry diseases troubling poultry raisers of the State for a number of years, has been discovered by Dr. J. R. Beach of the University of California agricultural department. During the past six weeks Dr. Beach has been carrying on a series of tests on a large scale at Petaluma, and he has demonstrated that his remedy for "roundworm" is cheaper and better than anything heretofore found effective. His cure follows:

For each 100 fowls, steep one pound of tobacco stems in enough water to cover the chopped stems. Mix this liquid and stems with ground feed sufficient for one-half the usual feeding. The evening before this is fed the fowls should receive only one-half their usual ration. On the day of the treatment no food should be given until the medicated mash is administered at 2 p. m., care being taken that each fowl gets its proportion.

Two hours later give one-quarter the customary ration of ground feed mash, made from water in which eleven ounces of Epsom salts has been dissolved. The treatment should be repeated in seven days and the fowls removed to noninfected ground.

CANADA PLANING GREAT MUNITIONS CAMPAIGN

Ottawa, Ontario.—Announcement was made November 26 that an ambitious munitions plan is under way in Canada by which financial houses are to be called upon to join Canadian factories in active service. It is proposed to tremendously extend the Canadian capacity for producing projectiles.

Yes, It Could Be Done. Pat Whelan, the new lodger, was engaged facing his boots in the kitchen. His landlady, standing near, remarked: "Pat, would you like an egg for breakfast?"

"Faith, ma'am," replied Pat, grimly, "I heard of a man who ate two and he is alive yet."—Kansas City Star.

Work on a dirigible war balloon for the navy will begin at the navy yard at Portsmouth on December 5. The airship will be 175 feet long and 50 feet in diameter. It will cost $30,000, and naval engineers estimate the work will be completed in a month.

CHILDREN PREVENT SUICIDE OF FATHER

Thoughts of Youngsters Stays Hand of Bank Defaulter; Surrenders to Police

Stockton.—Declaring that thoughts of his two little children had prevented him from committing suicide, M. R. Teller, Jr., bookkeeper in the Bank of Centerville, surrendered to the police here November 26, after confessing that he had robbed the bank of about $1,200.

His face haggard from mental anguish, the bookkeeper walked hurriedly into police headquarters about 2 o'clock and threw an automatic revolver on the desk of Detective Walker.

"I'm wanted at Centerville, or soon will be," he said, "and you may as well put me in jail."

"But what about this gun?" asked the detective in amazement, thinking that he was dealing with an insane man.

"Oh, that—that was what I got to kill myself with," explained Teller with a sickly smile. "I bought it, but when I thought about my two little children, I couldn't use it. Besides, two wrongs would not make a right. I threw away the cartridges for fear I might change my mind."

Teller declared that he had been systematically stealing from the bank for three years. Following his marriage three years ago, Teller said his living expenses exceeded his income. He had hoped to return the money, but was never able to do so.

Wednesday, according to Teller's confession, an examination of his books was begun, and he knew his exposure was but a question of hours.

GRAIN IS TAKEN BY SPECIAL WAR ACT

Canada Aids Allies by Seizing All High Grade From Fort William to Atlantic Winnipeg, Man.—At a meeting of the Grain Exchange November 23 a resolution was adopted that there be no trading in Winnipeg wheat futures on Monday, November 29th.

Ottawa, Ont.—The Canadian Government has commandeered all high-grade wheat in elevators from Fort William on Lake Superior to the Atlantic Coast.

The action was taken under the special war act by the Canadian Grain Commission. The wheat seized was of grades one hard and one, two and three Northern. It was the property of grain shippers and millers. That taken is that which on Saturday night was in public elevators at Fort William, Point Arthur, Midland, Tiffin, Port McNichol, Collingwood, Colerich, Kingston, Port Colborne, Prescott, Quebec, St. John, Montreal and Halifax.

A revised estimate places the amount at about 20,000,000 bushels. A considerable amount is the property of American grain dealers.

The grain was taken last Saturday, so that grain exchanges should be affected as little as possible. It is officially stated that the price will be fairly adjusted and the grain owners promptly paid by the Canadian Government. It is estimated that there still is in Canada, in the hands of farmers and dealers west of Fort William, 150,000,000 bushels surplus of wheat available for export. It is expected that most of this will be taken in the future for the use of Great Britain, France and Italy.

The domestic supply of Russia is more than sufficient to meet the needs of that country. Had the Dardanelles been forced, the surplus of Russian wheat would have made the present action unnecessary.

PRICE OF SILVER MEANS GOLD TO NEVADA MEN

Big Demand From Both China and Europe Adds Wealth to Sagebrush State

Reno.—With the price of silver at 57 cents, and every indication, according to mining and smelter operators, that it will reach 60 cents, Nevada silver mines are undergoing an unexpected revival.

Bids from China for the product and the demand from European sources are said to be responsible for the increase in price, and both countries are still in the market.

The increase in the price of silver, which has been rapid during the past week, has already doubled the profits of Nevada mines, and a further increase of 3 cents, it is said, will double the production of Nevada. Many mines unprofitable at the low quotation will return good profits at 57 to 60 cents.

He came to Los Angeles in 1893 and made much of his money in realty investments.

FLAMES THREATEN TWIN PEAKS TUNNEL

Lives of Firemen Endangered as They Enter East Portal to Battle Blaze

San Francisco.—The lives of several firemen were endangered last Sunday night when fire broke out in the Twin Peaks tunnel near the east portal. Owing to the dense smoke it was difficult for the firemen to reach the seat of the blaze, and only the aid of oxygen helmets made it possible for them to get the fire under control.

Handcuffs were impressed into service by the firemen and time and again they rushed into the blazing tunnel in relays. As one was on the point of being overcome by smoke another gang took its place.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The alarm was given by a watchman, who noticed a thin line of smoke streaming out of the east portal. By the time the apparatus arrived the portal was belching smoke and flame.

The blaze had a firm start on the heavy timbers far within, and to reach the blaze the firemen had to pass through clouds of thick smoke, carrying lines of hose. The work progressed slowly until the plan to utilize handcuffs was hit upon.

Since the beginning of the war the number killed amounts to 6,389; wounded 12,561, and missing 1,752, a gross total of 20,702.

NEVADA NEWS IN PARAGRAPHS

News has been received of the engagement of Miss Mignon de Neuf of Oakland and Oliver Hamlin of the same place. Miss de Neuf is a Virginia City girl, but has been living in Oakland for several years.

The new vein that has been uncovered on the 160-foot level of the Serita claim, belonging to the Stahl Bros., is said to be 22 feet wide, with values running from $500 to $600. No drifting has been done on this level up to the present time, says the Carson News.

The contractors who are driving the new shaft on the estate of the Darns Coal Mining Company at Coaldale have cut the first vein at a depth of 428 feet. The vein is small, but the quality is pronounced by experts to equal that of Rock Springs, Wyo., says the Tonopah Bonanza.

The second car of ore to be shipped by the leasers of the Lucky Boy is now being hauled to the railroad station at Thorne by Adams & Miller's big team. This shipment comes mostly from the Manson lease on the 800-foot level, although others are also shipping, says the Bulletin.

Col. Thomas Ewing was an arrival in Reno last Friday afternoon from San Francisco, and after a short stay continued on by way of Junco to the Pine Forest range. He has arranged to start extensive development work on the Oklahoma group of claims, situated in what is known as Buckaroo gulch, in the Pine Forest range, a few miles west of Quinn River Crossing, says the Humboldt Star.

E. K. Stallo, Nash Rockwood, H. W. Ketchen and Mrs. C. A. Sweet, Eastern capitalists who are interested in the Tuscarora-Nevada Mining Company, have just paid a visit to that camp and made arrangements to complete the assessment work for the year 1915. This company has control of practically all the mining property in Tuscarora, but for the past two years it has been in the hands of a receiver and nothing has been done. About a year ago the big mill was burned to the ground and the mine was allowed to be flooded.

Successful laboratory tests to determine the efficacy of oil flotation in the treatment of the copper-bearing ores of the Goldfield district have led to a decision on the part of the management of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company to proceed at once with the installation of equipment for a 30-ton unit for experimenting on a large scale with this process. Flotation is proving to be a complete success in a number of districts the ore of which is refractory, and metallurgists now regard it as the coming universal process for the treatment of ores that are not amenable to cyanidation, says the Tribune.

TROUBLE FOR LOCAL EDITOR

Cricketeer Threatened Physical Resentment of Report of His Prowess in the Game.

At a village cricket match the fielding side were for a time a man short.
A farm laborer was pressed into service. Just before the team's own man arrived a ball was hit in the substitute's direction. To the surprise of the spectators generally, and himself in particular, he made the catch.

The local paper the following Saturday was anxiously scanned for the record of this feat, and it was disappointed to find it merely "caught sub."

"What's caught 'sub'?" he asked a friend.

"Don't you know? That means
'twere accidental!" was the reply.

Next morning the editor of the local paper was greatly amused by the following epistle:

"Dear sir—You say in yore paper as how I cought a man out in Saturday's match—accidental—I mitte summon you for libel, but I won't, but should you 'appen to git a dump on the nose one day wen we meet you will know Bill Wierman is down it, and it won't be no 'sub' neither."—London Tit-Bits.

HARD WORK BRINGS SUCCESS

Few Achieve Anything Really Worth While Without a Struggle for its Possession.

Anything you may get without a struggle is worth little.

Keep this in mind when you are engaged in some difficult task and see if it doesn't help you to stick.

Things easy to do are the things sought by the easy-going kind of man who never climbs to any height. Perhaps he puts up a good bluff of doing hard work, but the deception hurts himself the most, and sooner or later he has to pay the price.

Natural ability helps some folk to gain prominence, but without hard work it will not go far. It is not the pupil who learns his lesson the easiest or in the shortest time who amounts to the most in after life. The quick to learn often have to work the hardest to retain it.

When you think of the different members of your class in school you know now that it is mostly the "grind" who has made the great and real success, not the boy who could recite on a minute's notice and spent the rest of his life in mischief. The real "smart boy" you need to know is generally working under the man who was once known as "dense" or "slow."
Stick to your job.

LEARN WAY TO MAKE LIVING

Good Advice for All Women Was That Tendered at Woman's Club at Pittsburgh.

A woman of wealth, but who is nevertheless identified with civic work and is a practicing lawyer, lately gave a talk before a Pittsburgh mothers' club.
Here is a part of what she said:

There is one question to which every woman ought to be able to answer. Yes, it is this: "Can you earn a living if you should need to do so?"

If there is one lesson more than another that has been emphasized in recent years it is that the untrained suffer most when a pinch comes. An other lesson that is most sufficiently understood is that there is practically no security in fortune.

Be prepared, is advice for a woman as well as for a nation. Train your daughters, you mothers, to something that will pay a return sufficient at least for a livelihood. It can do no harm, and it may mean just the difference between happiness and misery in later life.

There is nothing more pathetic than the sight of some unfortunate woman, brought up to a competency and utterly unprepared to support herself, who has been suddenly reduced to poverty. We all know some such woman. Pottering along at things that are of no real use, at work given by pitying friends or strangers, more or less dazed by contact with a world that is foreign to her, sinking little by little to meaner surroundings and more desperate makeshifts, she at last disappears, sucked under in the maelstrom she has neither the strength nor the training to resist.

Surely you don't want to run even the faintest chance of becoming such a derelict, if you don't want your daughters to run any such risk. So be prepared. Be fit for something, trained to something, ready to take hold if you must. Know at least one thing so well that people will be glad to pay you for doing it. Be able to say "Yes if the world should ask you if you can return full value for a living."
It is the surest of human safeguards.

Poor in Precious Stones.

For a land that is rich in minerals of all kinds the United States seems to have a very poor output of precious or semiprecious stones. About the best that we can do is to produce plenty of turquoise, and of this the mines last year yielded $1,000 more than the year before. Diamonds in the rough were once picked up in Kansas and opals and rubies in one or two of the southern states, but the unromantic government experts, after an investigation, informed the purchasers of the "mines" that they had been "let in on rather crudely salted properties." But that the prospectors are busy in this country may be gathered from the recent discovery of turquoise deposits in Nevada, pink beryl in Maine, sun stone in Arizona and amazon stone at White Plains, just north of this city.—

The Successful Wife.

It is becoming more and more rare to hear of an ideally happy marriage, and this state of things "gives one furiously to think," as they say in France. It may be due to the fact that, although love is easy to gain, it requires tact and care on a woman's part to retain it.

So many girls think that, directly the wedding ring is actually their own they need no longer trouble themselves to be as charming to their husbands as they were in courtship time.

The girl who wants to become a thoroughly happy wife, loving and beloved, must tax her strength and patience to attract and please her husband, regardless of the worries of everyday life, to show a smiling face in trouble, to be a real "pal," and to bear and forbear. These efforts must inevitably be crowned with success and the effort is well worth while.— Exchange.

NO GROUND FOR SCANDAL

Though for a Time the Domestic Peace of the Deary Family Was Seriously Threatened.

A young married woman, whose husband was of an exceedingly jealous disposition, decided to have her dining room repaired, and telephoned to the nearest paperhanger to send one of his men with samples to her home that afternoon.

Exactly at four o'clock the man appeared with the usual large sample book, and Mrs. Newlywed ushered him into the dining room, as she thought the paper could best be decided upon when tried against the wall.

"No, I don't like that brown, Mr.
Paperhanger. Try the buff," she said.
Then, "No, Mr. Paperhanger, the figure is too large in that, let me see that dark blue. Yes, I like that, don't you, Mr. Paperhanger?"

"Yes, madam, that looks very well, but don't call me Mr. Paperhanger, that isn't my name."
"Oh, pardon me, but what is your name?" Mrs. Newlywed asked.

"My name is Love," the paperhanger answered, when Mrs. Newlywed began to laugh.

"Yes, Love," the paperhanger repeated, somewhat nettled by the lady's laughter. Then she straightened her face and was about to speak, when her husband strode into the room, with him in his eyes.

"Get out of here, you infamous rascal!" he thundered, shaking his fist in the paperhanger's face. "Get out before I throw you out!"

"What's the matter with you?" the paperhanger inquired. "What have I done?"

"Done? Ask me what you have done! Here I just came home from a hard day's work and find you making love to my wife and then you ask me what you have done?"

"Why, man, you're crazy! Why should I make love to your wife when I have one of my own? Your wife asked me what my name was, and I told her. W. E. Love. Now she has you to say so," and the paperhanger straightened up ready for what might happen next, when Mrs. Newlywed said: "Oh, Harry, don't act so!
The man is telling the truth and I was laughing when you came in at the idea of having Love and Deary under the same roof."

This time the paperhanger looked mystified, when Mrs. Newlywed explained: "Our name is Deary, Mr.
Love; this is my husband, H. O.
Deary!"

Needlessly to say Mr. Deary looked very much ashamed of himself, and Mr. Love is now debating whether he shall change his name or not!

NOT CONDUCTIVE TO OLD AGE

Youngster of 80 Is Told by Man of 92 He Will Never Be Old Man on Account of Habits.

The late John Bigelow, the archrival of diplomat and author, and the no less eminent physician and author, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, were together several years ago at West Point. Doctor Bigelow was then ninety-two and Doctor Mitchell eighty.

The conversation turned to the subject of age. "I attribute my many years," said Doctor Bigelow, "to the fact that I have been most abstemious.
I have eaten sparingly and have not used tobacco and have taken little exercise."

"It is just the reverse in my case," explained Doctor Mitchell. "I have eaten just as much as I wished, if I could get it. I have always used tobacco, immovably at times, and I have always taken a great deal of exercise."

With that, ninety-two years shook his head at eighty years and said:
"Well, you will never live to be an old man!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TRUE FRIENDSHIP OF YOUTH

Engaged Gamekeeper in Long Chase That His Companion, Without Permit, Might Escape.

Two boys, one the possessor of a permit, were fishing on a certain estate when a gamekeeper suddenly darted from a thicket. The lad with the permit uttered a cry of fright, dropped his rod and ran off at top speed. The gamekeeper was led a swift chase. Then, worn out, the boy halted. The man seized him by the arm and said between his teeth:

"Have you a permit to fish on this estate?"

"Yes, to be sure," said the boy, quietly.

"You have? Then show it to me."

The boy drew the permit from his pocket. The man examined it and trembled in perplexity and anger.

"Why did you run when you had this permit?" he asked.

"To let the other boy get away," was the reply. "He didn't have none!" — Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Obliging.

The hotel keeper, hearing of the whorabouts of a guest who had decamped from the hotel without going through the formality of paying his bill, sent him a note:

"Mr. Dear Sir: Would you send the amount of your bill and obliged," etc.

To which the delinquent replied:
"The amount is $13. Yours respectfully."

The Relationship.

Mrs. Swiftly and her former husband were still friends. Noting the similarity of names and their familiar manner toward each other, a lady who was a guest with them at a week-end party thought they must be cousins.

"Is Mr. Swiftly a connection of yours?" she asked.

"No," laughed Mrs. Swiftly. "A disconnection."—Judge.

Distribution.

"The question of distribution is one of the most serious of our time," remarked the ponderous man.

"It is," replied Miss Cayenne.

"There is no telling what may happen to the simplest statement of innocent fact after it has been passed around by gossip."

ON THE BORDER.

The Mexican—Why are you here?

The American Soldier—We're here because we're here!

Preliminary Discussion.

"I offered her my hand," said the young man.

"Did she accept it?"

"Not exactly. She's a bridge player and what she expects of me as a partner is to lay my hand on the table and be a dummy."

Early Indication.

"Doesn't that youngster of yours toe-in a little when he tries to stand up?"

"Yes," replied the fond father. "We have great hopes of him. It looks to me as if he were naturally built for an expert golf player."

Presumption.

"Those new neighbors have very presumptuous children," said he.

"Yes," replied she. "They think they have a perfect right to get out in the street and make as much noise as ours do."

The Resemblance.

"There is a great likeness between cliché and a Japanese suit."

"What might it be?"

"The telegram is also a happy dispatch."

RUNNED BY THE WAR

Famous Russian Watering Place Is Deserted.

Jalta, Known All Over the World for Its Marvelous Climate, Has Had Practically No Visitors
This Season.

"Jalta, the Newport of Russia, to which even such favored regions of the world as the garden lands of California and the Riviera must yield when climates are compared, is today a stronghold of society utterly eclipsed by war. A lonely, unvisited little village whose prestige and fame have departed overnight, a Newport untenanted, forgotten by the press and by all the people who, in peace times, eagerly read about all the social splendors there," begins a geographic sketch given out by the National Geographic society.

"Jalta, normally, would just be entering upon the height of its season, its gayest, most important two months of the year, had not a world war closed it, together with Monte Carlo, Karlsbad, Interlaken and scores of other places of 'good-toned' beauty and amusement. The imperial court, the state, diplomats and members of the great Russian command, now carrying the intolerable burdens of the war, would be gathered there in times of quiet, and social Russia would follow their course."

"Jalta is a beautiful place built on the shelf of a mountain whose foot bathes in the bluest and mildest of waters to be found all around the coast of the Black sea. This little seaport, in the government of Taurida, on the southern coast of Crimea, thoroughly deserves the distinction of being the vacation home of celebrities."

"Behind it and between it and the solid mountain greens, which merge into deeper and deeper shades until at the bare summits they are greenish brown, rise to heights of from 2,500 to 3,000 feet. These are the southern fringe of the Jalta mountains. The tops of these peaks are often covered in icy mists while in Jalta and on its bay rests the mildest of spring weather. Snow never falls in Jalta, which boasts an annual mean temperature of 56 degrees Fahrenheit. Its climate is said to be superior to that of Nice. Its summers are not so oppressively hot, there is less rain in autumn and winter, the cool is less crisp in winter and the sunshine of autumn is said to fall balmier than anywhere else in the world."

"There is no industry and little trade carried on by the people of the village, who live almost entirely by catering to vacationists and regular visitors. It has a population of 14, 000. It is an ancient city and is thought to have been a place of great importance in a remote past. At one time it belonged to the patriarchs of Constantinople."

World's Pencil Production.

According to a recent article by Mr.
H. S. Sackett of the forest service, the world's production of lead pencils probably amounts to 2,000,000,000 a year, half of which are made from American-grown cedar. The United States makes about 750,000,000 a year, or more than eight pencils for each of its inhabitants.

Owing to the growing scarcity of red cedar and the fact that many other trees now little used appear to be more or less valuable substitutes for that wood in pencil-making, the forest service has carried out a series of tests which show that, next to the two species heretofore used for this purpose, the best trees for pencils are, in order of merit, Rocky Mountain red cedar, big tree (Sequoia), Port Orford cedar, redwood and alligator Juniper.

Seize Much Opium.

Acting on a tip that a large quantity of opium had been transferred from the S. S. Korea when it was in Hong Kong, the federal authorities gave the Chiyo Maru one of the most thorough searches a liner has been subjected to in San Francisco. Thirty inspectors were put to work, and went from stem to stern, from top to bottom, and found about $2,500 worth of the contraband drug. An inspector found in a chest belonging to Loo Wing a false side, which opened when one of the screws in the lock was pressed. In this false side $600 worth of opium was found. It is said that more opium is finding its way into the country than ever before.

War Wedding Rings.

English girls becoming engaged to soldiers make a special point of acquiring out-of-the-common engagement rings. These have been very successfully and artistically made from the bands of shells melted down and inset with the prospective wearer's favorite stone. On the inside is inscribed the day on which the fragment was originally picked up, and a few particulars. Shell bands are also made into brooches and bracelets. War brides have a fancy for rather wide wedding rings, and for the moment the smaller size, the popular one before last August, is in the background.
—Tit-Bits.

Undernourished Children.

Statistics show that in six of the nation's largest cities from 12 to 20 per cent of the child population is noticeably underfed or ill nourished.

Try this easy way to clear your skin with

Resinol Soap

Bathe your face for several minutes with Resinol Soap and warm water, working the creamy lather into the skin gently with the finger-tips. Then wash off with more Resinol Soap and warm water, finishing with a dash of clear cold water to close the pores.

Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished how quickly the healing, antiseptic Resinol medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear, fresh and velvety.

If the skin is in bad condition through neglect or an unwise use of cosmetics, apply a little Resinol Ointment, and let it remain on ten minutes before the final washing with Resinol Soap.

Resinol Soap is not artificially colored, its rich brown being entirely due to the Resinol balsam it contains. Sold by all druggists and dealers in Old Time English Recruiting.

Recruiting in the great war which ended in the fall of Napoleon was a vastly different matter from that which prevails today. Take the militia act of 1803, for instance. In each subdivision of a county a list was made of all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, classified into (a) those under thirty and without children, (b) over that age, (c) men with no children under fourteen, (d) men with only one child under fourteen and (e) all others. If the men required equalled the number in the first or second class, they were taken. If not, all the names were put in a bag and drawn until the requisite number was obtained. Any balotted man could purchase exemption for five years on paying a fine of $50, raised to $75 in 1806, the money being paid for a substitute. The men paying fines were exempted from the second ballot, and the money was devoted to enabling the men in the second ballot to obtain substitutes. On this vicious principle the only man really obliged to serve was the poor man drawn in the first ballot.—Dun dee Advertiser.

A Curious Worm.
There is a bit worm about half an inch long called Planaria veneta which reproduces itself in a most extraordinary manner. According to an article in the Biological Bulletin, when it grows old it loses its appetite, its color fades and its movements become slow. It drops a tiny fragment of its tail, then another, still another and so on until it has left about half of its body in scattered pieces. Each detached piece curls up, secretes a mucus that soon dries and forms a hard shell. In this condition the fragments remain throughout the summer, fall and winter. In the spring the shells burst and liberate many minute worms, which eat voraciously and soon grow to adult size. The fore part of the worm after it has shed all these bits, either dies or encysts itself in its turn.

Japan's Isles of Pines.
Matsushima is regarded as one of the most beautiful places in Japan. And it well deserves this reputation, for there are indeed few finer natural scenes on earth. It reminds the traveler of the Thousand Isles of Canada and the English lakes all in one. Here innumerable pine clad islands lift their fringed faces through the purple haze over a sea of silver green, and when the sun sets throwing the myriad islands into a golden glow, the mind is charmed to ecstasy. Matsushima bay is more than six miles long and five wide, and to visit all the hundreds of islands that adorn the surface of the sea in this place would take years. Yet you may see the best part of Matsushima in two or three days if you know how.—Japan Magazine.

Golden Invitations.
A successful Moscow merchant named Spiridonov, who had made a vast fortune, thought of a novel way of inviting the guests to his golden wedding. The invitations were engraved on golden cards. When the recipients opened the envelopes they were naturally pleased with the beautiful invitations, but supposed that they were only gilded. A closer examination, however, showed that the millionaire had actually sent out cards of real gold. Spiridonov sent in all 200 invitations. The cards were made by a Moscow jeweler by a special process, and the material was taken from a mine owned by the millionaire. Each "card" was worth about $25.—Youth's Companion.

Want All Undertakers Appointed Deputy Coroners

George A. Barber of 265 Fourth street, Richmond, is mentioned as an additional deputy coroner of Contra Costa county for Richmond and a petition will soon be circulated for his appointment as an additional deputy, and will be presented to those in authority for action.

Mr. Barber believes that either all undertakers, provided their credentials warrant same, should be appointed deputies, or else no undertaker should be appointed, as it gives one undertaker a monopoly of the business of undertaker.

The fact of the matter is, it is only a position of honor.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

As a successor to James C. Owens, the Richmond Terminal announces its preference for Hon. E. B. Martinelli of Marin county, and makes a very strong plea in behalf of that worthy gentleman. Mr. Martinelli is not only a staunch Republican, but is of the type of man with whom the term "statesman" may be aptly and appropriately associated. According to an established custom the naming of a State Senator for the district comprising the counties of Contra Costa and Marin is alternated between the two sections, and as Marin will be called upon to make the next selection the name of E. B. Martinelli appears before Contra Costans as the logical candidate. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that he will be our next State Senator. —Pittsburg Post.
